Rental rules

1. The renter is deemed to have received the rented item in good condition. The rental company is deemed to have handed over the rented item in good condition.
2. The renter is liable for loss or damage as a result of theft as well as all other loss or damage, howsoever named or howsoever caused to the rented item, regardless of whether the renter or third parties are to blame for this. The renter will pay the costs of repair or replacement arising therefrom, including those related to damaged parts, to the rental company by no later than the agreed return date of the rented item. If the renter participates in our Bike Rental Safety Plan, these costs do not apply. In that case, the renter's excess amounts to €25 per bike, €75 per e-bike and €100 per cargo bike. The Bike Rental Safety Plan does not compensate damage
  - A. that has arisen and/or worsened: a. with the permission of the renter and/or another interested party; b. through intent and/or deliberate or non-deliberate recklessness; c. and/or deliberate or non-deliberate obvious negligence of the renter and/or another interested party;
  - B. if, in the event of theft, the renter is unable to provide the bike key and a theft report.
3. The rental company will at all times be entitled to take possession of the rented item if abuse is suspected.
4. If the renter returns the rented item after the agreed return date, the rental company will charge the full daily rent for each day that the item is returned later than agreed, to be calculated from the time of closing on the agreed return date, plus a fine of €20 for each day that the rented item is returned late. The rental company may also charge a fee, both for damage that exists and for damage that will follow.
5. The rental company will at all times be entitled to recover any claims it has against the renter regarding the rental sum and/or any compensation by means of setoff against any deposit paid, without prejudice to its right to recover the entire amount owed from the renter.
6. In the event of theft, the renter is liable for the current market value of the item, which does not include loss of rental income.
7. The renter will take good care of the rented item as befits a good renter.
8. The renter bears full legal liability for damage caused to third parties.
9. If the bike is returned before the agreed return date, the full rent will remain due.
10. In addition to respecting the traffic rules and the locally applicable police regulations, it is strictly forbidden:
  - to ride the bike on and off the sidewalks;
  - to collide with other bikes while riding;
  - to carry more people than the number of bike seats provided;
  - to park or leave the bike unattended in the centre or surroundings of Amsterdam, except if the bike is parked in an official bike parking facility.
